

Aquaculture Masters scholarship deadline fast approaching

ACES+, the Erasmus Mundus Joint Masters Degree in AquaCulture, Environment and Society, has teamed up with the Scottish Aquaculture Innovation Centre (SAIC) and MOWI (Marine Harvest Scotland) to offer scholarships for the two-year course.

These scholarships are for European-based students and will cover tuition fees for the entire course, but the deadline of July 3 is fast approaching.

Come and join our award-winning students, who come from all over the globe to study across our partner institutes in Scotland (SAMS UHI), Greece (University of Crete), France (University of Nantes) and the Netherlands (Radboud University).
